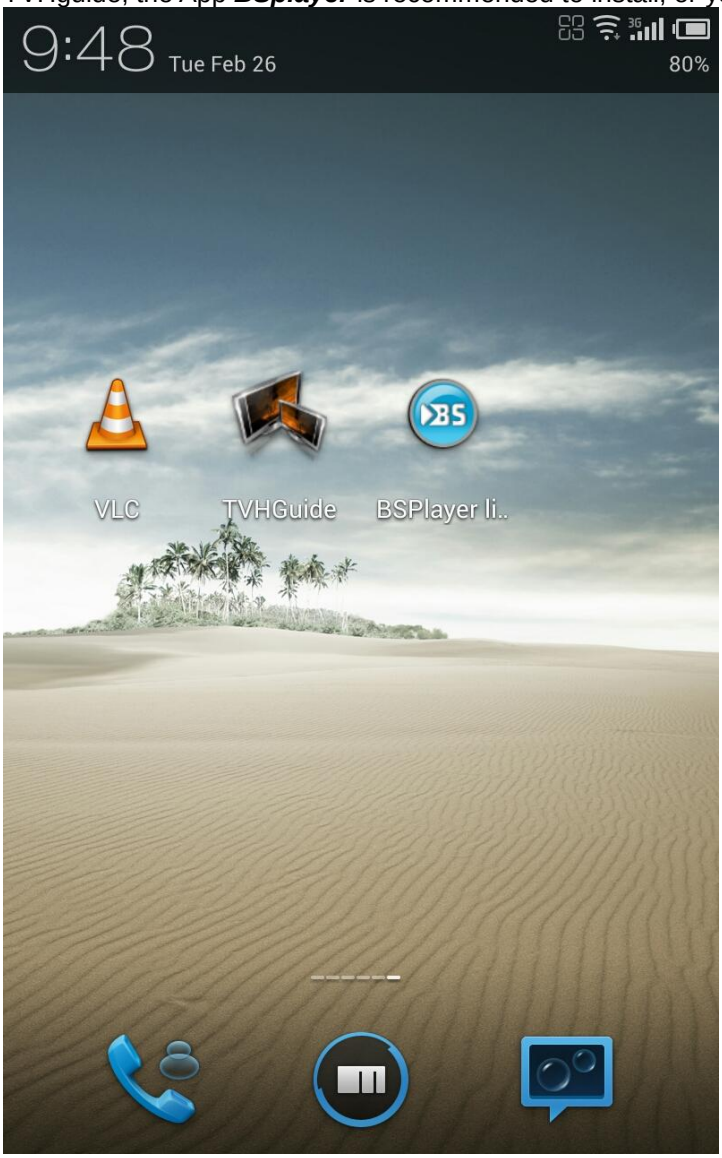
TBS MOI DVB-S2 Streaming Box_TVHguide

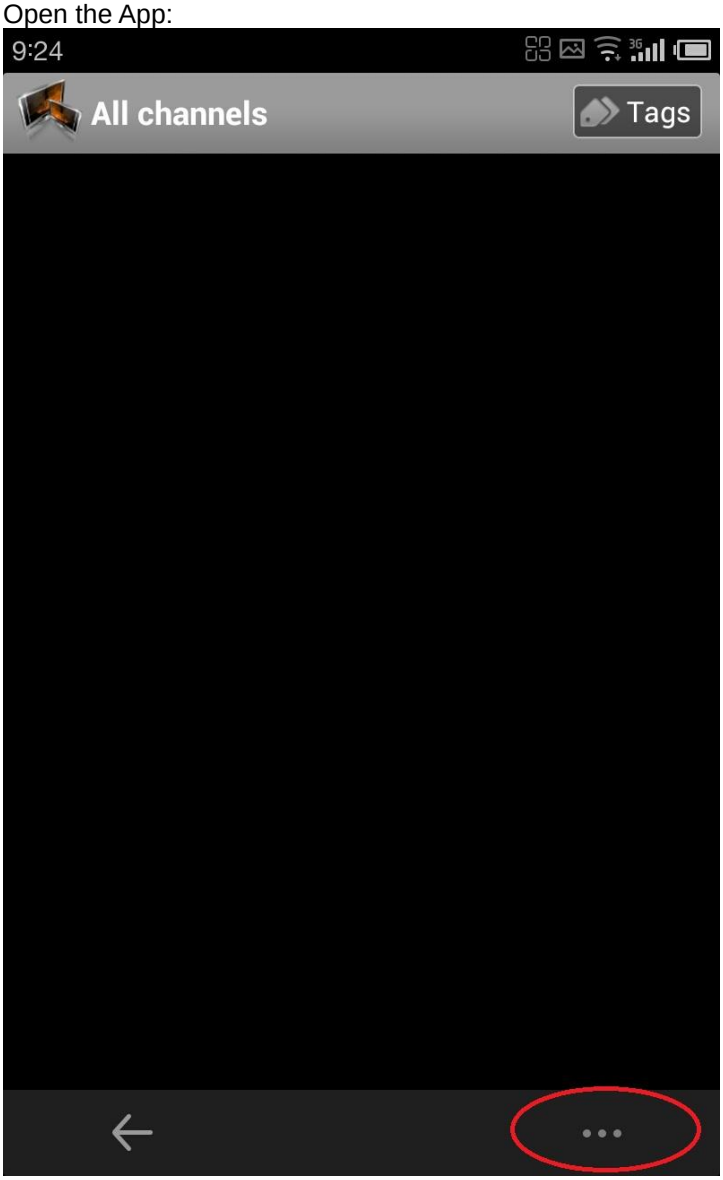
TVHGuide is an Android client for Tvheadend, a TV streaming server, it can be used together with MOI for streaming & watching satellite TV on Android device.

Download the TVHGuide APK from http://john-tornblom.github.com/TVHGuide/download.html

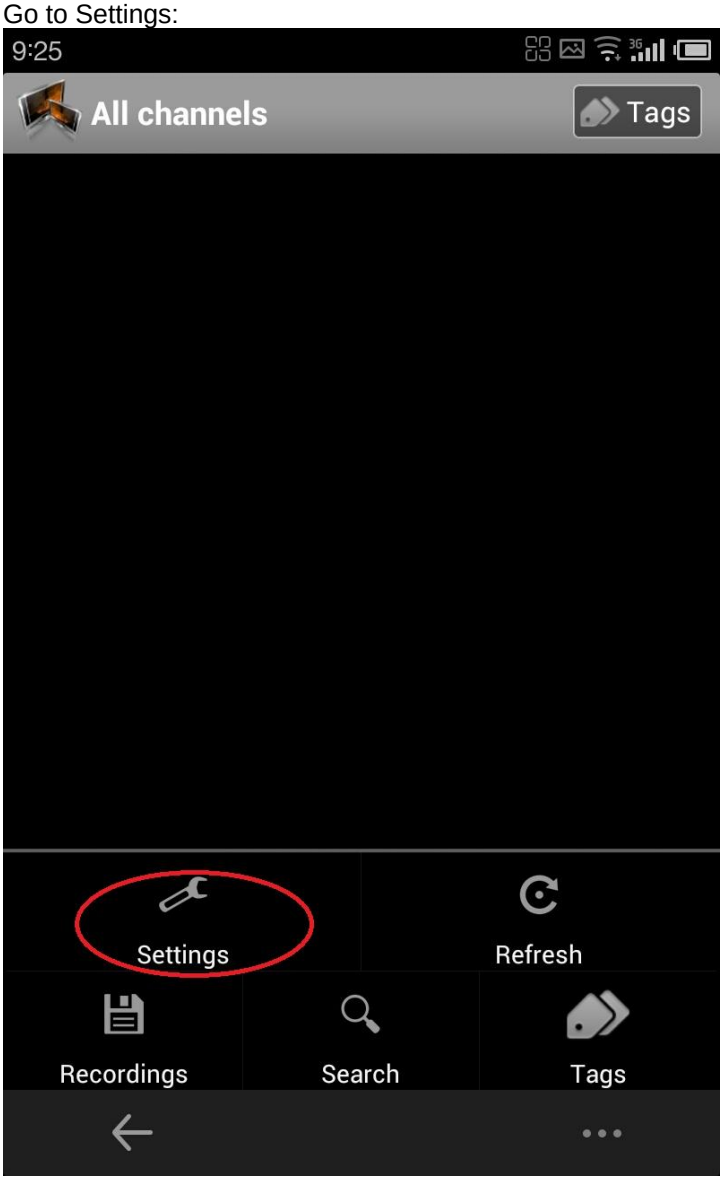
Install TVHGuide on your Android device, for example an Android smartphone. Since TVHGuide is just like Tvheadend, with it you can do some configuration on MOI, but it can't play the videos directly, that's why with Tvheadend you need to watch the selected channel through software like VLC or XMBC, for TVHguide, the App BSplayer is recommended to install, or you can also use VLC for the playback.

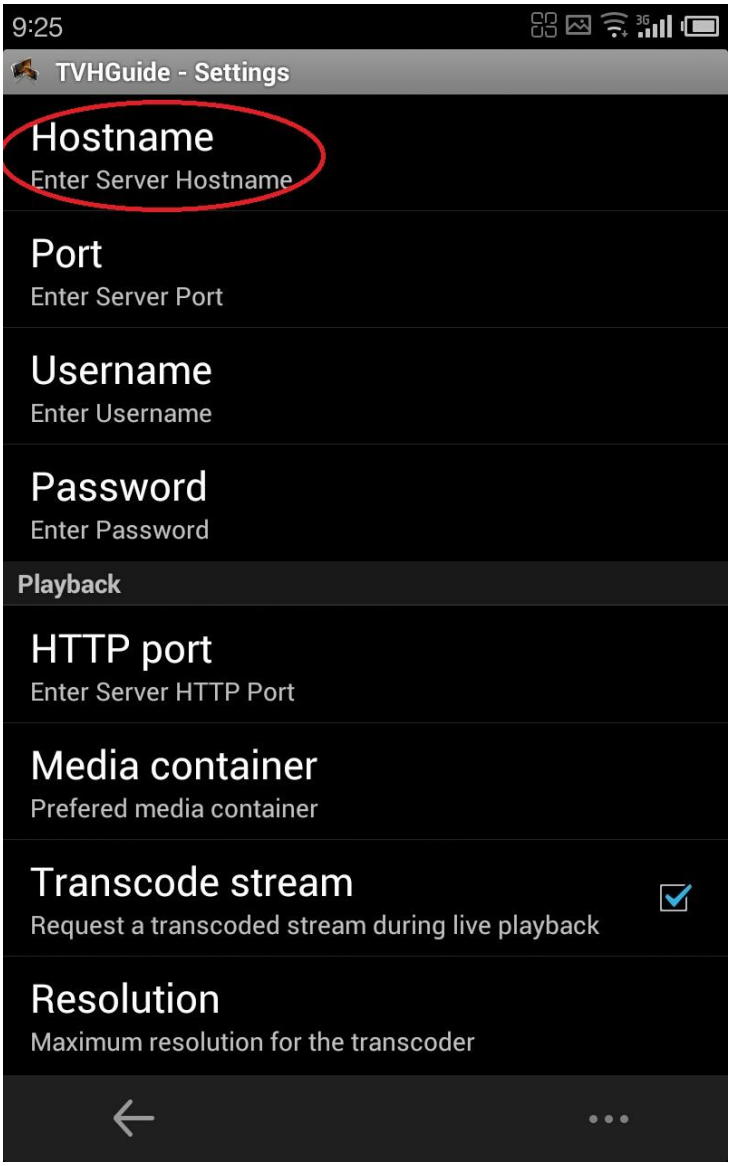


Open the App:

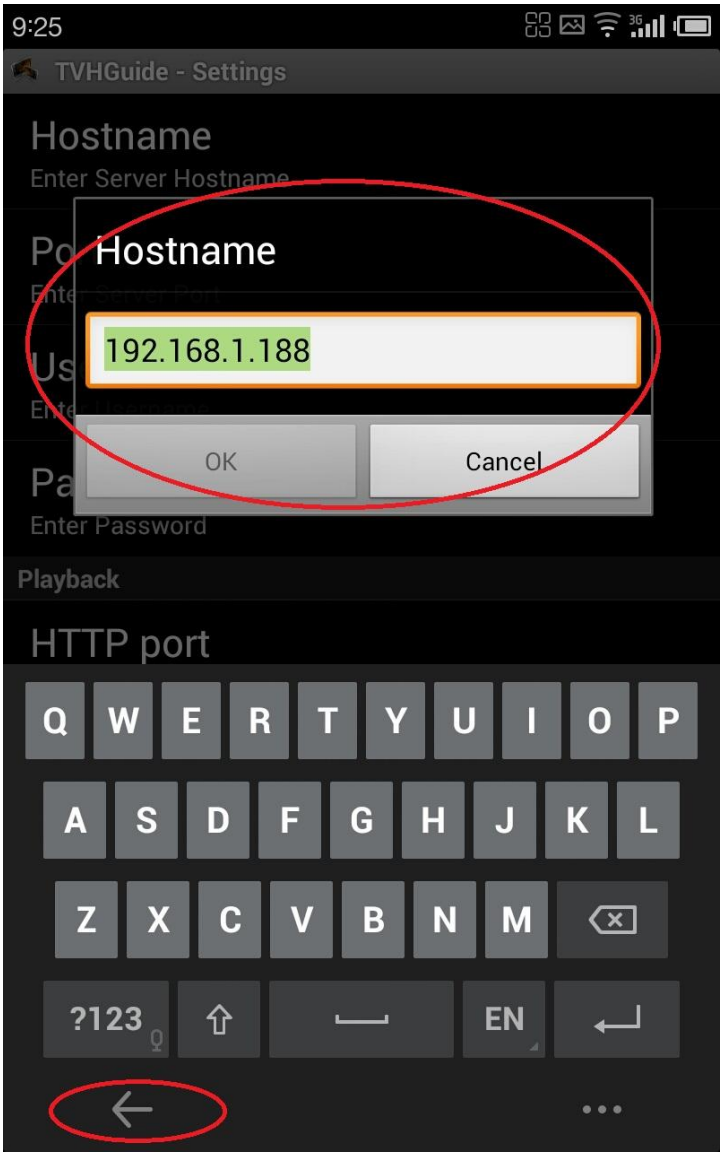


Go to Settings:





Here you need to enter the server hostname, which is the IP address of MOI, if you have not changed the default IP address, just enter 192.168.1.188, as it is in the picture below; if you have changed the IP address, then enter the new IP address:



Tap on “OK” to complete the settings. Go back to the main screen of TVHguide, you will see a list of the channels which are streamed from MOI.

Tap on the selected channel until it shows the options “Play” and “Search the EPG”, then tap on “Play” and choose BSplayer when it is asked to choose a player to open the channel. As alternative you can also use VLC to play.
